Police Arrest Man For Possession Of Burglary Tools

Circleville Police have charged a South Carolina man with possession of criminal tools, a felony, after attempting to give him assistance early Saturday morning.

Police Sgt. Jerry Smallwood and Ptl. Ken Henn were notified by the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department that a man was slumped over the steering wheel of a car near the First National Bank on E. Main St. 4:18 a.m. Saturday.

The officers discovered that the man, James Edward Skinner, 41, Anderson, S. C., had apparently fallen asleep. The car's windshield wipers were operating and the engine was running.

Skinner failed a sobriety balance test, according to Smallwood, who initially charged him with intoxication.

Sgt. Smallwood accompanied Skinner to the driver's side of the vehicle to allow the man to lock his 1975 model car when he spotted what appeared to be a homemade key on the floorboard of the vehicle.

The officers obtained a search warrant from Municipal Court Judge Sterling Lamb and found a money bag from the Citizens' Southern National Bank that contained $12.50 in change; a money bag from Charles Getsinger

Guy Motors that contained $16.95 in cash; a paper bag that contained two homemade keys, two blank keys, and a part of a lock; a satchel that contained a cloth bag, bobby pins, $2 worth of nickles, coin wrappers, a hacksaw blade, two pair of pliers, two files, loose change, and another part of a lock.

Local police, checking his identity, discovered that Skinner has a long criminal record that includes murder and kidnapping.

He was convicted in 1950 for theft and served time in Port Allen, La., County Jail; convicted of three counts of grand larceny in Dallas, Tex., in 1952; convicted for burglary in 1952 in Ponca City, Okla., and sentenced to Texas Prison, Huntsville, Tex., for three years; and arrested in 1954 in Houston, Tex., as a federal fugitive.

Oklahoma City, Okla., Police arrested Skinner July 24, 1954, for murder and kidnapping. He was sentenced there Nov. 11, 1954, to a life term for first degree murder and kidnapping with the sentences running concurrently.

Skinner escaped from the prison Feb. 13, 1957, but was apprehended in Dallas Feb. 20, 1957.

He was paroled August, 1973.

Ohio Battles Flash Floods

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Heavy rains that caused flash flooding in southern and eastern Ohio Sunday gradually ended during the night as a cold front moved steadily across the state.

However, numerous roads were closed today around the state and high water levels posed a threat to some residents in low-lying areas.

Showers were confined early today to extreme northern and eastern sections of the state.

Total rainfall, according to the National Weather Service at Cleveland, was over an inch in most areas of the state since it began Saturday night. Some sections measures three inches.

Cooler air followed the rainfall, with temperatures forecast to drop into the 40s over most of the state today. Low readings tonight are expected in the 20s.

Members of the Licking County Civil Defense unit went door-to-door through a section of southeastern Newark recommending that 200 residents evacuate their homes because of flooding along the North Fork of the Licking River.

In Wayne County, sheriff's deputies also canvassed threatened areas urging people to leave their homes.

Small streams also spilled over their banks in Holmes, Coshocton, Guernsey, Muskingum, Noble, Vinton, Athens and Meigs counties, covering some roads with water but causing no evacuations.

The National Weather Service said continued rain overnight could make the situation more serious.

Landslides forced Cincinnati's busy Columbia Parkway to be closed Sunday, but city workers expected to have the highway reopened early today.

Officials said the Ohio River at Cincinnati was expected to crest short of flood stage.

The weather service advised residents along the Scioto River south of Columbus, particularly at Chillicothe, Circleville and Piketon, to be on the alert for rising waters.

The river surpassed the 11-foot flood stage at Larue Sunday night and overnight was expected to go over the flood stage of 10 feet at Prospect, 14 feet at Circleville and 16 feet at Piketon.

The Scioto is not expected to reach the 16-foot flood stage at Chillicothe until Tuesday morning, the weather service said, explaining that the illogical occurrence results from the tributary system.

Crests are expected along the Scioto Tuesday afternoon and Wednesday morning.

The weather service said the Sandusky River was to reach the 13-foot flood stage at Upper Sandusky overnight and crest at 14½ feet late this afternoon. At Tiffin, the river was likely to reach the eight-foot flood stage this morning and crest at 8.9 feet Tuesday morning.

SCIOTO RIVER OVERFLOW—The Scioto River, flooding to over 18 feet Monday morning, caused major problems at the city's proposed sewer plant off Route 22. Workmen, who constructed a dirt dike in an effort to prevent flooding of the site, were called out Sunday during heavy rains to salvage construction items from the high water, which broke through the dike Sunday afternoon. Monday, they manned boats in an effort to retrieve debris from the water. The river is expected to crest Tuesday at 21 feet.

Syrian President Discloses Peace Offer To Israelis

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The president of Syria says his government will sign a peace treaty if the Jewish state gives up all the territory it captured in the 1967 war and agrees to a Palestinian state made up of the West Bank of the Jordan River and the Gaza Strip.

It was his strongest statement yet on the possibility of an agreement with Israel.

"This is not propaganda. We mean it — seriously and explicitly," President Hafez Assad told Newsweek magazine.

Israel, however, has repeatedly rejected those two demands.

The Egyptian magazine Rose al Youssef reported that Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger told Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko he expected to get an agreement next month for another Israeli troop withdrawal in both the Sinai Desert and the Golan Heights front with Syria. The report said Kissinger and Gromyko agreed to call the Geneva peace conference back into session in April if the withdrawal agreement was reached.

The Israeli Foreign Ministry said it had not been informed of any such Soviet-American agreement, and newsmen accompanying Kissinger on his recent visit to the Middle East reported no indications of Israeli willingness to give up any more Golan Heights territory.

Falastin As-Thawra, a Beirut magazine that reflects the views of the Palestine Liberation Organization, claimed a U.S.-Egyptian deal in the offing would provide for the internationalization of East Jerusalem, where the holy places are located, in exchange for the next Israeli withdrawal in the Sinai.

The Arab Boycott of Israel organization opened a 10-day meeting in Cairo to review requests from 60 firms to be removed from the blacklist. The boycott includes Ford Motor Co. and Coca Cola as well as a number of personalities sympathetic to Israeli causes.

The Israeli military command reported that an army patrol clashed with a band of guerrillas on the Lebanese border Saturday night and killed one of the Arabs. It was the first border incident reported since Feb. 1.

A hijacker diverted a North Yemeni plane with one passenger aboard to Saudi Arabia on Sunday and was immediately arrested, Egypt's official Middle East News Agency reported.

A flash flood in the northern Sinai desert Sunday engulfed a Bedouin camp, and Israeli officials reported nine persons known dead and at least 20 missing. They said it was the worst flood in the normally arid zone in 60 years.

ROUNDTOWN

ROBERT Scranton, Chapter Chairman of the Board of Directors, American Red Cross, reminds the members that the monthly meeting will be held Wednesday at 8 p.m. at the chapter house.

Members will not be receiving announcement cards for this meeting, but a good attendance is essential as several important items of business are on the agenda.

THE Grove City upper bracket sectional finals between Circleville and Logan Elm will be played Saturday, March 1, at 3:30 p.m. at the Columbus Fairgrounds Coliseum.

Central District Athletic Board members moved the game from Grove City High School in an effort to allow as many fans as possible to attend the contest.

Tickets will be sold at both schools for the game. They will be sold at Circleville Wednesday and Thursday with a limit of six per person.

Both schools will be allocated 1,500 seats.

Ford Shift In Prices Expected

DETROIT (AP) — Car rebate offers expire this week and Ford Motor Co. is expected to match General Motors' decision to lower the price tag on some compact models by eliminating some standard equipment.

The $100 to $600 rebates, which went into effect in early January, boosted car sales and whittled away at new car inventories, but not nearly enough to force the car companies to increase production and call back workers.

With 13 assembly lines closed this week, 255,000 of the industry's 683,000 blue-collar workforce are laid off.

Ford President Lee Iacocca says Ford will step up production 50 per cent next month and begin calling back some of the 35,000 workers who are indefinitely laid off.

Eight of Ford's assembly lines are closed this week. Three are closed at GM and two at Chrysler.

GM was able to reduce the sticker price on nine of its small cars by $104 to $313 by knocking off some standard equipment. However, the cost of its lowest-price model — the Chevrolet Vega — remained unchanged.

Reports indicate Ford will match GM's pricing move, but the No. 2 auto maker has not yet announced its post-rebate plans.

The GM price cuts are an attempt to continue the sales momentum generated by the rebate plan which ends Feb. 28.

existing ones in Ohio.

The nursing homes-housing resolution is pending in the House Economic Affairs and Federal Relations Committee where hearings resume tonight. Chairman Arthur Wilkowski, D-46 Toledo, said he is dissatisfied with its "all encompassing" language and wants to shorten and clarify it. Democrats generally favor the housing part of Rhodes program.

Sen. Marigene Valiquette's Senate Ways and Means Committee will hear Rhodes' plan for industrial tax abatements. Her panel is slated to hold its first hearing on it Tuesday morning. Sen. Valiquette has called on the governor to provide more information, saying the committee cannot act with the "haste" the governor wants unless it knows how state and local tax House Ways and Means Committee. It would increase the four per cent sales tax by seven-tenths of a cent to raise $2.5 billion for massive inner city improvements and port projects on the Ohio River and Lake Erie, among other things.

The legislature faces a March 5 statutory deadline for getting Rhodes' four proposals on the ballot. It will be a tight schedule, and some of the committee chairmen involved have said frankly they think there may not be enough time.

Aside from the two bond issues totaling $4.1 billion, Rhodes is proposing constitutional amendments to authorize state revenue bonds for nursing homes and housing, and a 30-year tax reprieve for industries locating new facilities or expanding revenues would be affected and how much land is involved, among other things.

House Ways and Means Chairman George D. Tablack, D-52 Campbell, and Headley both said they want to look closely at the Rhodes tax proposals to determine if they represent the best means of financing. Headley said he has "considerable doubt" that the nine-tenths of a cent hike in the gasoline tax would be sufficient to pay off $1.6 billion in transportation bonds.

Tablack said while he is keeping an "open mind" on the sales tax hike, he thinks some Democrats will propose other means of financing the $2.5 billion bond issue. They have mentioned a possible hike in the state income tax for higher income families, as well as a boost in the corporate income or franchise tax, the Mahoning County lawmaker said.

Headley, noting weekend news reports indicating there could be an increase of about 13 cents a gallon in the federal gasoline tax, said Sunday it could develop that the proposed hike in the state tax would be "insignificant." However, he added that "none of my constituents is clamoring for it."

Headley said he wants to look into Rhodes financing proposal to determine whether it may have been conceived in part on an assumption of a federal gas tax increase that would permit the states to retain part of that increase. He also wants to know, he said, to what extent the proposal relies on using funds from previously approved bond issues, once their original obligation is met.

But Democrats, who contend this would worsen inflation and recession, are putting far more emphasis on battling unemployment than on reducing U.S. reliance on foreign oil.

In the House, energy bills have not moved past the hearing stage, mainly because the House Ways and Means Committee has been preoccupied with an emergency anti-recession tax cut.

Demos Hammer Out Energy Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — While attention is focused on President Ford's battle with Congress over oil tariffs, two Senate committees are nearing approval of their own substitutes for the President's energy program.

As Congress awaits Ford's promised veto of a bill suspending the President's $3-a-barrel oil tariff, the Senate Interior Committee plans to approve early this week a gasoline rationing bill. The measure would give the President standby authority, with congressional consent, to impose gasoline rationing or take other emergency conservation measures during any future fuel shortage.

Meanwhile, the Senate Commerce Committee is considering two other bills that are expected to be a part of the energy program being drawn up by a Senate-House Democratic task force.

One bill would require that automobiles and household appliances bear labels describing in simple terms their energy efficiency. This would give the consumer help in making energy-efficient purchases.

The second bill being considered by the Commerce Committee would set ceiling prices on "new" natural gas but allow the price to be increased periodically in response to inflation. The Ford administration is urging an end to all price controls on natural gas.

The Senate-House panel working on the Democratic energy program is headed by Sen. John O. Pastore, D-R.I., and Rep. James C. Wright, D-Tex.

The joint panel plans to meet again Tuesday to coordinate the House and Senate efforts.

The final Democratic energy plan is expected to reject Ford's contention that consumption of imported oil should be cut two million barrels a day, or 28 per cent, by the end of 1977.

Ford proposes to reach the goal by raising the price of fuel. The administration's program envisions boosting gasoline prices by 15 cents a gallon and Ford's tariff is the first step toward making make energy more expensive.

Pentagon Boosts Enlistment Period From 2 To 3 Years

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon's manpower chief says there is "very small risk" that recruiting for the all-volunteer force will be set back by a new order increasing minimum service enlistments from two to three years.

"We're confident we can continue to make our strength and keep our quality up," Asst. Secretary of Defense William K. Brehm said.

Brehm spoke in an interview after Defense Secretary James R. Schlesinger announced Sunday on ABC's "Issues and Answers" that minimum enlistments will be raised from two to three years.

Pentagon sources said Schlesinger overrode service objections and ordered the changes into effect by the new fiscal year in July. Certain Army generals and Navy admirals were reported to be concerned that the longer enlistments could make it difficult to get enough recruits when the recession ends.

Sources hinted that Schlesinger might push for a four-year floor on enlistments in all the services sometime in the future. Army and Navy officials were understood to have expressed concern about the effect of longer enlistments when the economy improves.

"I think probably we can make our quotas as long as the recession lasts," one senior officer said. "But I have serious reservations about being able to meet our needs if the economy improves substantially."

Brehm said longer enlistments will reduce manpower turnover, leading to a higher experience level and better combat efficiency.

He calculated that the armed services get only about 18 months of useful service out of a new two-year enlistee because six months is used up with training, leave and travel from training bases to permanent units.

There also will be money savings because "there will be fewer men to bring on active duty, to train and to move" during any one year, Brehm said.

"We estimate that over the long term it will be possible to reduce enlistment requirements by about 45,000 men a year," Brehm said.

In addition, 45,000 fewer men will go out of the service each year, he said. So he projected a benefit totaling 90,000 men by the end of fiscal 1978.

Markets

NEW YORK (AP) — Wall Street finally got its long-awaited selloff today, sparked by some adverse economic news from Washington.

The noon Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was down 11.66 at 738.11, and losers held a better than 2-1 lead over gainers in active trading on the New York Stock Exchange.

Brokers said the sharp decline in prices today was a natural correction to the market's sharp 1975 advance. From Dec. 6 until the market's opening today, the Dow index had climbed 172.17 points without a significant retreat.

As the market opened today, the government reported the fifth straight monthly decline in new orders for durable goods during January.

On the American Stock Exchange, the market-value index dropped .32 to 77.41.

Glamors moved lower in profit taking. Copper stock prices sank on pessimistic predictions of future earnings.

Dennis Kelley, 20, and Sharon Kelley, 19, both of Route 3, were treated at Berger Hospital for injuries suffered in the crash.

Jury Of 8 Seated To Hear Van Sickle Wrongful Death Suit

A jury of eight was seated this morning in Pickaway County Common Pleas Court to hear the plaintiff's case in two wrongful death suits. John William Van Sickle is seeking damages against Denver Eugene Meade in the amount of $250,000 for the wrongful death of his wife, Charlotte Ann Van Sickle, and in the amount of $150,000 for the wrongful death of his son, John Douglas Van Sickle.

Judge Guy G. Cline is sitting on the common pleas court bench today to hear the case. Van Sickle is represented by the law firm of Tyack, Scott and Colley. Meade is neither present nor represented by legal counsel.

Meade's wife, Florence who was dismissed at the beginning of the trial as a third party defendant, sat at the back of the courtroom.

Meade was convicted of the Jan. 20, 1973 slayings of the two members of the Van Sickle family on Dec. 15 of that year. He was then sentenced on the two first degree murder convictions on Dec. 19, 1973. Judge William Ammer who presided at the criminal trial sentenced Meade to two consecutive life terms in the Ohio State Penitentiary.

An appeal of the convictions has been filed with the Fourth District Court of Appeals.

In substantiating his claim today, Van Sickle was called to the stand and testified that his son was of great assistance around the home and that he had a paper route prior to the family's move to Commercial Point where the murders occurred.

He further testified to the employment of his deceased wife and the health of both the wife and son. Van Sickle said his wife was, at the time of her death, an employee of Shottensteins but was also at that time on sick leave from her job due to nerves. He said she had been employed several places during the period of their marriage. The Van Sickle had been married Feb. 24, 1956, just short of 17 years when she was shot and killed.

The defense counsel introduced into evidence bills for the cemetery lots, funeral expenses and monument for the dead mother and son. He then moved for a separate cause of action to include these expenses.

These two wrongful death actions were filed June 1, 1973. The defendant's answer was filed on June 22, 1973.

Van Sickle's attorneys also ask in the complaint that Meade's action of conveying all his property to Florence Meade be declared null and void. The plaintiff alleges that this action was taken expressly for the purpose of defrauding him.

Jurors seated this morning were Robert E. Tacy, Cecil W. Lutz, Roger D. McConnell, Darrell E. Caudill, Helen M. Lambert, John S. Sanders, Jerry D. Reynolds and Ernest D. Ankrom. Some of these individuals have been called for jury duty three times since the beginning of this term of court.

Wet Roads Major Cause Of Accidents

Pickaway County Sheriff's authorities investigated eight accidents Saturday and Sunday due to wet weather conditions. Thirteen roads in the county were closed at one time Sunday with five remaining closed today.

One car was completely submerged in water on Route 752. Roads closed today include County Roads 511, 752, 762, Red Bridge-East Ringgold and Canal Road.

Three persons received minor injuries in a two-car accident, 4:52 p.m. Saturday at Routes 22 and 56.

According to the report taken by Deputy John Bost, Edward Anderson, 43, Columbus, westbound on Route 22 was slowing for traffic, when he was struck in the rear by a car driven by Charles D. Parker, 25, Route 2, Williamsport.

Anderson was referred to a doctor for back pains. Also referred to a doctor were passengers, Izetta R. Porter, 39, Columbus, for head pain and Evelyn D. Brown, 45, Columbus for head and back pain.

Nineteen-year-old Damon M. Dean, Route 1, Mt. Sterling was referred to a doctor for back pain when he was involved in a single-car accident, 9 p.m. Saturday.

Dean was traveling north on the Williamsport-Palestine Road when he failed to negotiate a curve to the left.

John E. Shull, 17, Mt. Sterling, passenger, was referred to a doctor for right arm pains.

Deputy John Bost investigated the accident.

Two-year-old Chad A. Dollar, Ashville, was taken to Children's Hospital, Columbus, when the car in which he was a passenger was involved in a single-car accident during the weekend.

Susan A. Dollar, 26, Ashville, was traveling north on Route 316 when she went off the right berm onto the wet gravel.

Losing control of the vehicle, the auto went into a ditch and went airborne into a drainage tile.

Ms. Dollar was not injured. Thirty-five-year-old Donald Lee Welsh, Ashville, was treated and released at Berger Hospital for bruises and minor glass lacerations to the eye, when he was involved in a single-car accident, 2:57 p.m. Sunday.

Southbound on Walnut Creek Pike, Welsh lost control of the auto on the wet highway on a curve.

The auto went off the left side of the highway and up an embankment and coming to rest on its top.

Circleville Fire Authorities were called to the scene to standby for assistance.

Pickaway County Sheriff's Deputy Lawrence Holt had to pry Welsh from the wreckage.

Commissioners Create Jobs For Federally-Funded Program

Pickaway County Commissioners have created 11 new jobs in county government to take advantage of $70,000 in Federal Funds under the Title 6 program.

The positions are being filled by the department heads according to Dick T. Tootle, chairman of the commissioners.

A position in the county health department and two in the Brooks-Yates School have already been filled.

Commissioners provided for three additional men to be employed by the county engineer's department with the understanding they are to be used to initiate a house numbering program, one has been granted the auditor, one the sheriff and two to the county humane officer with an eye toward rounding up the stray dogs in the county to cut down on animal claims.

In addition the Pickaway Soil and Water Conservation District will be allotted a part time person for summer work and a records clerk will be employed by the commissioners. The person to be employed by the commissioners will be responsible for all paper work and applications for federally funded programs and may also be used parttime by the Agricultural Extension office. One of the federal guidelines to be eligible for the funds is that unemployed persons be hired.

In action this morning, L. Robert Liston was named to represent the commissioners on the Pickaway County community Action Agency board of trustees.

The following animal claims were approved to farmers who had livestock killed by dogs:

Selman Lehman, Route 1, Lockbourne, $360 plus $6.10 witness fees; Walter K. Kuhlwein, Route 1, Ashville, $1,072 plus $12.80 witness fees; Edward Kuhlwein, Route 1, Lockbourne, $70 plus $12.65 witness fees; Ward Cross, Route 2, Ashville, $73 plus $7 witness fees.

The rates of assessment for maintenance of the following county ditches were approved: Bulen Ditch and Bulen Lateral in Harrison Twp.; Hughes ditch and Hughes Lateral, Harrison Twp.; Fuls-Moore-Wolford Ditch, Deercreek Twp.

Hewitt Cromley, county ditch supervisor, reported that Sunday's heavy rainfall indicated that there are several areas where drainage is a problem. Commissioners Tootle, Liston and Don Strous plan to tour the county's trouble spots Tuesday with county engineer Henry McCrady and Cromley.

DWI Arrest Result Of Feb. 11 Accident

William L. Gilbert, 29, 216 W. Mound St., was issued a citation Friday for driving while intoxicated. The charge stemmed from an accident that occurred Feb. 11.

Gilbert's name was mistakenly carried in the arrest column on Feb. 12 due to the fact the accident report filed by the Circleville Police Department indicated he would be charged for DWI.

Easter Seal Campaign Officially Opened

The Thirteenth Annual Ohio Easter Seal Society Kick-Off to officially open the 1975 Easter Seal Campaign was held in Columbus, Saturday, February 22, with 14 enthusiastic representatives from Pickaway County among the more than 400 volunteers participating.

Due to illness, both of the scheduled featured guests, Jane Withers and Archie Griffin, were forced to cancel their appearances. Robert Forster, television, movie and stage actor who is now rehearsing for Otterbein College Theater's production of "A Streetcar Named Desire", graciously stepped in to serve as celebrity host.

Kurt Schumacher, O.S.U. football star, and Mike Adamle of the New York Jets football team ably substituted for Griffin, who is hospitalized for surgery for sinus and adenoid problems. A surprise visitor to the luncheon was Ohio State football coach Woody Hayes, who is a former Franklin County Easter Seal Chairman and a strong supporter of the work of the Easter Seal Society. These celebrity guests spent the morning in meeting and being photographed with the many volunteers and children representing local units throughout Ohio. Master of Ceremonies for the luncheon was Jimmy Crum, Columbus WLWC-TV sports director, who is the 1975 Ohio Easter Seal Chairman.

The highlight of the afternoon was the "Easter Parade on Wheels" decorated wheelchair contest in which 15 handicapped persons competed in their mini-floats decorated in a variety of motifs following the theme, "Love Is ...". Sharon Ely, Pickaway County's contestant, again came home the winner, having been awarded first prize in her division for group-decorated chairs. Sharon's wheelchair was decorated by the North Ridge Church of Christ Youth Group, whose advisor is Mrs. Nelva Kasler. They transformed the chair into a Japanese rickshaw and both Sharon and her "puller", her friend Dawnel Bergen, wore Japanese costumes to complete their theme of "Love Is Sharing the Load". Some of Sharon's competitors included chairs decorated as a hot-rod car, a circus wagon, a VW Love-Bug, a surrey, a super jet, a horse-drawn racing sulky and a treehouse, and the judges' task of choosing the winners was a very difficult one.

Providing entertainment and greeting the children throughout the day was a group of clowns from Rockwell International. Sketch artists from Artpac of Columbus also were on hand to sketch pictures of the Easter Seal Children. The program was concluded with an enthusiastic performance by the Columbus Sweet Adelines, singing both old and new favorites in their inimitable style of barbershop harmony.

Attending from Pickaway County were Shane Curtis, Thomas W. Curtis, Tom Curtis, Sharon Ely, Dawnel Bergen, Nelva Kasler, Mary Stein, Carolyn Daub, Lois Ely, Margaret Helwagen, Jack O'Donnell, Sue Warren, Ida Warren and Richard Plum.

The annual Easter Seals Campaign will begin February 24 and extend through Easter Sunday, March 30, with Governor Rhodes having issued a proclamation naming the month of March as Easter Seals Month.

Open Letter

Dear Friends,

Occasionally we overhear, "All these funeral flowers, what a waste!" To show love and respect for the memory of any individual is never a waste but rather a kind deed that bolsters the spirits of a heartbroken family. We never think of a beautiful centerpiece for a dinner party a waste.

Flowers, like funerals, are for the living and any compassionate concern that one individual shows to another is a commendable act.

Respectfully,

A Page Of Opinion

Housing Outlook Improves

Although the January unemployment picture contains little to enthuse about, there are signs of some strengths beginning to build in the economy. How long it may take for those strengths to reflect an upward advance is hazardous to predict.

Federal Reserve Board Chairman Arthur Burns, to name one top economist in the upper echelons of the decision-making machinery, testified before Congress early in February that he believes an economic upturn is only months away. One of the changes Burns cited to support his belief is the rapid decline in prime interest rates.

Declining interest rates generally are a reflection of increased savings in relation to demand by borrowers. That is the case now. Savings institutions across the nation report increases in savings funds and many have noted more money is becoming available for mortgages.

Interest rates for mortgages have shown only slight declines so far, led by FHA and VA decreases from 9 to 8.5 per cent. The pressure on mortgage rates is downward, indicating borrowers seeking conventional loans should find the cost of borrowing declining as 1975 progresses.

At the same time mortgage lenders are easing credit restrictions, accepting smaller down payments and extending loans. Also helping the housing industry is the fact that many materials — lumber, copper, wool and rubber among them — have dropped in price over the last year.

A rejuvenation of the housing industry could be one of the first signs of recovery.

Getty And Dempsey

ON THE LINE
By BOB CONSIDINE

NEW YORK — Here's a surprising swatch from the fabric of an upcoming ABC-TV documentary on J. Paul Getty:

"Paul and I met in 1915 and we have always kept in touch with each other," writes Teddy Hayes from Scottsdale, Ariz. Teddy was Jack Dempsey's trainer and is the busiest octogenarian working for the Petroleum Division of the American Coldset Corp., which makes oil-drilling equipment. Ted continues:

"Paul was a very good — repeat good — fighter. In his youth he was no easy touch for anyone who tangled with him. In 1923 when I had Jack training for the Firpo fight at Saratoga, Paul dropped by for a visit and after watching the champ work out asked if he could go a couple rounds with him. We suited him up and he went three lively rounds with the champ. That generally wasn't advisable, but Paul knew how to take care of himself, even against the best. "In 1928 at Hampton Court in England, where I had Mickey Walker training for the Tommy Milliken fight for the middleweight championship Paul dropped by with two beautiful dolls on each arm and wanted to work out with Mickey. I had to refuse this time. It was too near the fight date and the Toy Bulldog was getting on edge. Real mean. Still, Mickey needed another sparring partner that day, so I put on my trunks, went through two rounds with him, just countering. But in the third round the roof fell in. I'm glad it didn't happen to my old pal Paul."

The above footnote to history makes J. Paul the only billionaire boxer who didn't open a saloon after he hung up his gloves. Petroleumwise, that is.

Not very many people believed Martha Mitchell when she shrilly charged that she had been kidnapped, drugged and her life threatened by operatives of the Nixon Administration in the wake of the Watergate break-in debacle. She was generally dismissed as a gassy dame, possibly off her rocker. Her husband, John, who had been the chief law enforcer of the United States, and who has been charged with having a heavy hand in the Watergate affair, did little or nothing to defend her at the time she was popping off left and right.

Now the convicted man who played the odd role of being not only her bodyguard but abductor, James W. McCord Jr., reports more than two years later that she was indeed treated as badly as an independent thinker is in a police state.

Dear Editor:

Two recent wrecks of trains in Pickaway County on the N&W Railway points up a problem that is prevalent all over the country, namely the deterioration of the rail system. Recently as I was crossing the N&W at a crossing just north of Ashville I noticed broken ties at a joint and a spreading of the rails.

I reported this condition immediately to the Agent at Ashville who in turn notified the proper officials and a crew was called who repaired the track. In the meantime a "slow" order was put out to allow a train over the defective joint. As it turned out the angle bars were broken and the defect had the impact of a broken rail. If it had been somewhere else and not been noticed there would probably have been another wreck.

Years ago the N&W took great pride in the maintenance of their right-of-way. Prizes were awarded annually to the Section Foremen for excellence. Track walkers were employed to walk the tracks and search for defects. The cost of one wreck would pay the wages of a track walker for a long time. But with over-regulation of the railroads by the government, we have seen a steady deterioration of the rail system. How far can it go?

boomed out at the crowd in the cathedral. "This is the way Bach used to do it! And now we can do it, too."

Fine, dandy, and ecumenical. ("Miss Williams threw kisses.") But I kept wondering how my old pappy, who joined the Knights of Columbus shortly after Christopher arrived, would have taken it if he had been reincarnated and dropped into the Cathedral to light a candle.

The best guess is that he would have called the Pope. Or a cop, if the Pope's private phone number, VAT-69, was busy.

My old pappy opposed the beatification of Joan of Arc in 1909 because he had read somewhere that she wore iron pants in 1429 during her lifting of the siege of Orleans.

2 Nevada Clubs Bought $9 Million

CRYSTAL BAY, Nev. (AP)—The Crystal Bay Club and CalNeva Lodge have been purchased by the BKJ Corp. for more than $9 million, an official with one of the clubs said Sunday.

Ray Plunkett, general manager and vice president of the Crystal Bay Club, said the sale which had been in progress for some time took place Friday.

Plunkett said the BKJ Corp. is composed of Everett Brunzell, of Brunzell Construction Co. based in Reno, plus Charles Ketcham and Norman Jensen, both of Las Vegas.

The clubs on the north shore of Lake Tahoe were purchased from the Ohio Real Estate Investment Co. and the Ohio Real Estate Equities Co., Plunkett said.

Plunkett said BKJ, which had been "in the stages of purchasing the clubs for some time," had been awaiting approval from the Ohio companies and the courts before the sale could be consummated.

Stockholders of the two clubs had filed suit against the Ohio companies in 1973, resulting in the assets of the two companies being placed in federal receivership.

Man Collects Gas Masks

SCRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — In a small confined corner of his South Sacramento home, stacked to the ceiling, are five or six dozen foam heads James Sheldon uses to display his collection of gas masks, some dating back to World War I.

"I got my first gas mask at California State University at Chico," explains Sheldon, a Navy medical corpsman. In checking out the equipment he became interested in further investigation and collection.

Before long he was owner of tactical remnants of nearly all the war-torn countries of the world — survival masks from Germany, Japan, Italy, Vietnam, Russia and the United States.

He scrounged in flea markets for his masks.

He said some of the older masks were made of leather. He has a Viet Cong one made out of a shower curtain. His latest fancy U.S. Army mask has a hook for drinking and even for giving artificial respiration.

His mask hobby, he says, is only beginning.

"There are more than 50 models produced on the U.S. alone and many countries have a dozen models."

Speaking Of Your Health

by Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

My sister has had bouts of fever for almost a year. She has had all kinds of tests, but there is still no answer. Can't this fever eventually make her a chronic invalid?

Miss H. J. H., Ohio

Dear Miss H.:

One of the most baffling problems that physicians face is fever of unknown origin.

Even after exhaustive tests, the exact cause may still be elusive. Examination of the blood, cultures of the throat, stool studies for infection and parasites may give some clue to sustained fever.

Amoebic dysentery, rheumatic fever, malaria, typhoid fever, typhus, phlebitis, liver disease, intestinal infections, and even skin disorders can be responsible for frustrating, persistent fever.

Eventually, the cause for your sister's problem will be found by the coordinated efforts of physicians in many specialties. The fever itself will probably not be the reason for "chronic invalidism." The underlying cause for the fever is the real threat to health.

There are now government agencies and Public Health teams that are especially trained to test for and find the most bizarre reasons for fever of unknown origin.

Occasionally, diseases thought to exist only in tropical and sub-tropical climates do occur in the United States.

Occupational hazards that affect the lungs also must not be ruled out as a cause for this most annoying and debilitating condition.

Every few months my daughter goes on a banana and milk diet. She does, indeed, lose weight quickly. Can this be harmful?

Mrs. T. E. F., Va.

Dear Mrs. F.:

Bananas are easily digested, they are palatable and highly nutritious. In combination with milk, such a diet is high in mineral and vitamin content.

The hunger-satisfying qualities of this combination are important to those driven to eat by "hunger pains." The greatest advantage of such a diet is, as with all diets, the reduction of the caloric intake.

If your daughter chooses this diet for short periods of time, and with her doctor's permission, it may be for her the simplest method of achieving rapid weight reduction.

Mid East Role

By JIM BISHOP

There are times when it is better to have a forthright enemy than an ignorant friend. Israel has enemies and friends. Since the Arab oil embargo of last year, the little country which has fought valiantly to maintain both feet in the sands of the Middle East has become more worried about the shifting support of its friends than its enemies.

Since 1948, Israel has repulsed or stalemated every armed attack. When 3 million people can survive the gunfire of 40 million, we are tempted to believe that little David actually killed Goliath with a slingshot and a stone.

The weakness in Israel's position lies in the field of diplomatic negotiation. One can say of Israel what Churchill once said of Field Marshal Bernard Law Montgomery: "In defeat he is difficult, in victory, impossible."

Shimon Peres, and before him Golda Meir, and before her David Ben-Gurion, were certain that, in peace feelers, they were dealing from a position of strength. No matter how many battles are won, it is the final one which alters history.

Arab oil blackmail has brought great and good friends of Israel to their knees. No one can deny the propriety of Israel pointing a finger of scorn at the great nations which, almost overnight, have turned away. Israel has denied itself this show of indignation, but it knows, it knows.

It is an irony of history that a Jew, Henry Kissinger, cannot win concessions from Israel. Students picket his comings and goings at Tel Aviv airport. The U.S. has poured billions in cash, tanks, planes and sophisticated weaponry into Israel. The U.S. has no treaty with the little nation.

And yet, common sense dictates that Israel must be kept alive and flourishing. The forces allied against this nation are not merely warlike. They want nothing less than to annihilate Israel and kill all Jews, which is reminiscent of Adolf Hitler's aspiration.

The latest tactic of the Knesset, which is to romance Sadat of Egypt and thus separate him from Syria and Saudi Arabia, will not bear fruit because Sadat, who appears to be reasonable on the surface (akin to Hussein of Jordan), wants most of all to remain in power.

If Israel cannot divide its enemies, and is afraid of the dripping oil in the fingers of its friends, it must compromise. And this is precisely where the Jews are at their weakest. For years they have told the world what they will not discuss — the partitioning of Jerusalem, a return of the Golan Heights to Syria, a piece of real estate for the Palestinians.

It seems to me, as a long-time student of history, that such talks should begin with summit discussions between the U.S. and the Soviet Union. If the so-called "Big Brothers" can agree on a pact which will mutually guarantee recognition of Israel and her borders, including her right to use the Suez Canal and a satisfactory trade agreement with her neighbors, the government of Israel should be prepared to yield on the Golan Heights, internationalization of Jerusalem, and a strip of land for the Palestinians.

King Faisal says he longs to visit the Moslem shrine in Jerusalem, but will not, as long as Israeli bayonets are present. The city, where I walked through tank traps and around barbed wire three times at the Mandelbaum Gate, is holy to Jews, Moslems and Christians.

What would it matter if the mayor was a Jew? Let it be so. Appoint a council of Moslems, Christians and Jews to work with him. Thus everyone who holds the old, blood-spattered walled city dear would have access to the holy places. Surely it must cause God to smile to think of three sects fighting to determine who owns Him.

No peacy treaty, either at Geneva or anywhere else, would be more than a sheet of paper unless the major powers agree that Israel is there, belongs there, and no one will be permitted to drive the Jews out.

If war comes to the dunes of the Middle East again, I assure you that this time highly destructive missiles will be used by both sides, and cities will be leveled. If this occurs, who can deny that the U.S., supplying Israel, and the Russians, sending weapons to the Arabs, are the real protagonists?

It is time, and past time, when Israel and the Arab nations put all their cards face up on the table. Each side must not only give something of substance to the other, they should demand protective guaranties from those "Big Brothers" who aren't brothers at all.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

Can Only Bury First Wife Once

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a man who was a pallbearer at his first wife's funeral on his second wife's 14th wedding anniversary?

That's what my husband did. He had only two children by his first wife, and seven by me.

I was plenty ticked off about this. Don't you think he could have shown his respect by just sending flowers? I'd like your opinion.

ANNIVERSARY RUINED
DEAR RUINED: It was unfortunate that your wedding anniversary and your husband's first wife's funeral fell on the same day, but I think it's to your husband's credit that he was asked to be a pallbearer, and that he accepted. You'll have other anniversaries, hopefully, but his first wife can be buried only once.

DEAR ABBY: Someone wrote asking whether one should wear panties UNDER pantyhose or OVER them, and you replied that pantyhose served as both panties and hosiery, so with nightly laundering panties were not necessary at all.

Abby, please rush this into print: A few years ago, my elderly mother was introduced to pantyhose, and she loved them. Within a few months, she developed a dreadful vaginal infection which spread into her bladder, and she was hospitalized in agony.

There seemed to be no medication that could combat the particular bacillus that invaded her system. The several doctors who attended her (and did eventually cure her) all told me that they'd been seeing much too much of similar infections, although mostly among younger women.

They concluded that there must be something in the dye of the pantyhose that caused the infection, so they now urge women to wear panties under their pantyhose. Please, won't you please help to spread the word? I realize that not all women react the same way, but if this prevents only a few from experiencing the kind of nightmare my mother endured, it will be worth a place in your widely read column.

WISCONSINITE
DEAR WIS: I consulted several topnotch gynecologists and dermatologists and they all agreed with you! So the word from here is-play it safe, girls, and wear white cotton panties under your pantyhose, unless your pantyhose have cotton crotches.

DEAR ABBY: I smoke because I enjoy it. And I resent the way people are now trying to make smokers feel like second class citizens. I see "NO SMOKING" signs in places where they never were before. (In doctors' waiting rooms for instance. Smoking calms my nerves, so isn't it natural to want a cigarette in a doctor's office? Also in elevators and in some stores?)

Smoking is a nervous habit, right? Well, I put up with the nervous habits of others. Some people crack their knuckles, some clear their throats, some have nervous coughs, or they sniff. People with nervous tics also make me nervous, but I don't mention it.

So, since smoking is also a nervous habit, why can't people be as tolerant of MY nervous habit as I am of THEIRS?

PIPE SMOKER
DEAR SMOKER: Because YOUR nervous habit pollutes THEIR air, that's why. Put that in your pipe and smoke it!

Councilmen Vote Under Duress

MARIETTA, Ohio (AP)—City councilmen drew straws to determine who would vote yes to qualify the city for federal flood insurance required so homeowners can obtain insured bank loans on flood prone land.

The council said it felt coerced by the federal government that said the city must okay the program in order for the residents to receive the loans. Councilmen wanted to all vote no.

But, to make sure the city was eligible for the insured bank loans, council cut some straws and the final vote was 4-3 in favor.

Shock Probation Under Fire

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)— Four months after sentencing, a three-time convicted rapist in Montgomery County is put on shock probation.

The community shows alarm. Judge Douglas Ferguson is attacked on many fronts.

Shortly thereafter, the rapist is picked up by police in a neighboring town on a warrant charging him with a fourth rape, one that allegedly took place six days before he entered the prison on the third charge.

The man's attorney asks that his client be sent back to prison. He said his client was not mentally able to handle the controversy and remain out of trouble.

State Rep. Robert E. Netzley, R-81 Laura, doesn't think this was an isolated case. He wants to outlaw shock probation, one of the new penal tools aimed at cutting back unnecessary jailing.

Netzley is preparing a bill that would not only take away a judge's right to hand down shock probation but would require him to give a mandatory sentence for anybody convicted of a crime against an individual.

Netzley believes the average Ohio jurist lives in a different world, isolated from the dangers other citizens face.

"How many of them have been hit on the head or had members of their family raped?" he asked. "These judges are isolated in a judicial world of do-gooders."

Netzley contends he isn't the only lawmaker concerned with shock probation. It gained national prominence when a federal judge used it to get Watergate defendants talking about their part in the break-in of Democratic National Headquarters and the ensuing cover-up.

Netzley said he didn't object to its use there or in burglary or breaking-and-entering, auto theft and similar crimes.

"What we have got to stop is crimes against the individual," he said. "While the judges are being nice, those kind of crimes are going up."

There were a couple of controversial details of the Dayton case. For one thing, the rapist reportedly had been in prison too long to be eligible for shock probation under the law.

For another, the uncle to whom the rapist was paroled was supposed to be an expert in prison rehabilitation. He was a former prison guard, not a rehabilitation specialist.

Netzley said he isn't the only Ohio lawmaker studying shock probation. "I think you will see several bills introduced limiting in one way or another a judge's right to use it," he said.

6 Persons Killed In Weekend Weather

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

At least six persons were killed and thousands of homes destroyed as a series of weekend tornadoes swept through the South and Oklahoma.

Authorities said one person died at Tuscaloosa, Ala., where a tornado struck early Sunday afternoon. At least 50 persons were injured and hundreds more left homeless, officials said.

Two other twisters touched down in Mississippi, causing extensive property damage in some areas. Heavy winds caused damage to several homes in Mt. Juliet, Tenn., and Burlington, N.C.

In Arkansas, law enforcement agencies and private assistance groups spent Sunday searching for more victims of the series of tornadoes that cut across that state Saturday. So far, the storms have claimed at least one life.

A Red Cross spokesman estimated that 175 homes were totally or substantially destroyed. Electric company officials said more than 200 homes were without electrical power Sunday.

Saturday's combination of tornadoes and heavy snow in central and western Oklahoma resulted in four deaths.

Damage was estimated at between $6 to $8 million alone in Duncan, where 17 mobile homes were destroyed and 3,900 houses were either demolished or heavily damaged, authorities said.

The eastern section of Oklahoma was not hit hard by the twisters but did receive from 3 to 12 inches of snow.

While warm temperatures are expected to melt most of the snow in Oklahoma, heavy snow warnings continue for much of Missouri, eastern Iowa, Illinois and southern Wisconsin.

Elsewhere, showers and thunderstorms continue over southern Michigan and much of the Ohio Valley south to the Gulf Coast and into the Mid-Atlantic Coast region. Rain was also reported in southern New England and the Pacific Northwest.

Temperatures early today ranged from 3 degrees at Watertown, S.D., to 78 at Key West, Fla.

Soviets Progress In Meat, Poultry

WASHINGTON (AP) — An Agriculture Department expert said today that the Soviet Union is making significant progress in turning out more meat, milk and poultry for consumers despite reduced grain harvests last year.

The push by Moscow to put more of those products on Russian food tables has been watched closely by department officials for some time as a sign that the Soviet Union probably will continue as a buyer of U.S. corn and other livestock feeds.

"The major bright spot in the Soviet farm scene last year was the good performance of the livestock sector, which continued to move ahead strongly," Fletcher Pope Jr., specialist in the department's Economic Research Service, said.

Over-all Soviet farm production slipped 3 to 4 per cent below 1973's record as the result of grain harvests being smaller than expected, but Pope said those harvests still were the second largest in history.

Pope's report, published in a weekly issue of "Foreign Agriculture," did not speculate on what the surge in Soviet livestock production may hold for U.S. grain exports.

USDA officials have indicated for several years that Russia's goals for upgrading consumer diets could lead to sustained sales of U.S. feed.

The Soviets currently are buying relatively small quantities of corn and wheat, held in check by limited U.S. stocks and government export policies.

But some officials believe long-term sales are possible if Russia continues to invest as heavily in its livestock sector as now indicated.

As of Jan. 1, Pope said, Soviet livestock inventories were at record levels. The total cattle herd, for

Ehrlichman Set For Indian Work

WASHINGTON (AP) — John D. Ehrlichman, President Nixon's former domestic affairs adviser who was convicted in the Watergate cover-up, will soon go to Espanola, N.M., to work for American Indian rights, says Ehrlichman's lawyer, Ira M. Lowe.

Ehrlichman has been sentenced to 2½ to 8 years in prison and, like three others sentenced in the case, plans to appeal. Before sentence was passed Friday, Lowe said Ehrlichman wanted to work for the Indians instead of going to jail.

On Sunday, Lowe said Ehrlichman is preparing to go to New Mexico within a few days and called the action "an example so that judges will see that there is an alternative to incarceration." Lowe said Ehrlichman will get subsistence from the Indians but no fee.

Putnam County School Injury Case Studied By High Court

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Supreme Court has agreed to review the question of when a public school teacher is liable for injuries to his students.

The court agreed Friday to accept the appeal of a Putnam County teacher who was found personally liable for injuries to a pupil in a shop class accident.

The teacher, David Burkhart, contends he's immune to such lawsuits, unless they involve deliberate or malicious injuries.

The appeal stems from a suit brought by McArthur Salyers, an adult education student, against Burkhart and the board of education of the Continental Local School District in Putnam County.

Salyers was injured in 1971 in an explosion during a welding class. In his suit, he contended the classroom and equipment were unsafe, and said he should have been warned about the dangerous conditions.

The Putnam County Common Pleas Court dismissed the case, ruling both the board and the teacher were immune from such suits if they were acting in their official capacities and there was no evidence of malice.

The 3rd District Court of Appeals agreed that the board was immune. But it said it was unable to find a specific immunity in law for the teacher, and he therefore was liable for his negligence.

In his appeal, Burkhart contends the same immunity which is granted to board members and school principals also should extend to teachers.

In another case, the court agreed to review the Ohio Civil Service Employees Association's contention that Kent State University is circumventing the state's civil service laws by hiring private firms to do custodial work.

The OCSEA asked for a court order blocking the contract between Kent State and the Aetna Cleaning Contractors of Cleveland, Inc.

The trial court agreed with the OCSEA. But the 8th District Court of Appeals reversed that ruling, saying Kent State was within its rights to make such a contract unless it was trying to thwart the civil service laws.

OCSEA is appealing that decision.

Eritrean Fighting Continues

ADDIS ABABA, Ethiopia (AP) — The government has sent troops, artillery and warplanes against rebel strongholds around Asmara in the most severe fighting since the civil war escalated a month ago.

Residents of Asmara, 450 miles north of Addis Ababa, said Friday that Ethiopian jet fighters raided Waki Deba, a reputed guerrilla hideout four miles from Asmara, while other battles raged around the city as far away as Keren, a military strongpoint 56 miles away.

Army troops positioned howitzers on the Asmara golf course and shelled Zazega, a suspected guerrilla base a mile from Asmara.

Residents said some of the shells flew over the U.S. communications station at Kagnev.

Although government forces have succeeded in driving the Marxist and Moslem rebels out of Asmara, the insurgents encircle the city and are restricting food and fuel supplies to its 200,000 residents.

Asmara streets were empty and stores closed. Commodities produced in the city, including bacon, beer and matches, were becoming scarce in Addis Ababa and other Ethiopian cities.

The job of a cheerleader is a different one. They must be enthusiastic and do all they can to raise school spirit and pride.

Three TV senior cheerleaders cheered their last home game last week at Teays Valley's 71-63 victory over West Jefferson. The three girls are Lori Stewart, Susie Glitt, and Brenda Brinker. This was Lori and Susie's sixth year, as both cheered at Ashville School in junior high. Brenda formerly cheered at Walnut School, and this was her fifth year of cheering.

When asked why she first started cheering, Lori stated, "In seventh grade, I just wanted to try out, but when I got to high school it was pretty important to me to pick up school spirit."

Brenda started because she feels she is "a person who likes to do things and always has to be in things."

The reason Susie got involved was because "Chuck was going to play ball and the whole family is interested in sports. It was the one way I could participate in sports."

The thing Brenda enjoys most about cheering is "just being in front of people and being noticed and recognized as a cheerleader because a cheerleader represents her school."

Susie likes "having a skill to work toward and being able to use my abilities, and also meeting other cheerleaders and all the people."

Lori enjoys tournaments the most "because you see how much spirit your whole team has."

All three girls had different answers as to what they have personally gained from cheering. Susie said, "Long-lasting relationships with other people, and the ability to get along with other people."

Lori has made a lot of new friends and has had an opportunity to see other schools. She feels "It goes farther than just cheering, it helps you control yourself better."

Brenda has gained "an ability to be able to confront and talk to people. I smile, and they smile back!"

Brenda feels that her most exciting game was the Dublin game when the team scored 100 points.

Lori and Susie agree that the most exciting game was the tournament game against Circleville two years ago. It was the first time they cheered in the coliseum.

When asked to name the most difficult thing about cheering Susie said, "Having to get out in front of everybody and not mess up. Getting

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Maggie knew exactly how to deal with the uppity couple who moved in next door. She placed her radio at a strategic window on their side of the house and kept it running full blast all day long.

After months of this bombardment, the neighbors finally went to court seeking damages.

"On what grounds?" demanded Maggie. "After all, I am not making noise. I am only playing music."

But the court decided that even music can become unlawful. Granting the neighbors' claim, the court said:

"A musical instrument played loud and long enough (can become) a nuisance comparable to the water torture of the Chinese."

Between feuding neighbors, music may indeed be employed as a kind of weapon—something that the law will not tolerate. Not only the loudness but the content may be condemned.

For example:

A marimba player used her instrument as a means of mockery. Whenever a certain fat man walked by the house, she would tap out "Jingle Bells." For an elderly widow she played "Little Old Lady." For a retired naval officer it was "Anchors Aweigh."

Here too a court ruled that the music was being used as a deliberate irritant and should be curbed.

However, the law does not frown on any particular school of music. At a summer resort, an aristocratic gentleman brought suit against his youthful neighbors for singing "lowbrow" songs on their front porch.

But a court refused to mix in.

"It is quite true," said the judge, "that a class of music which may be entertaining to one may be annoying to another. But those who enjoy the modern jazz cannot be restrained from producing it because it offends the classical ear."

the words and motions right."

Brenda feels it is, "Trying to control the crowd."

Lori finds "learning to work together as a unit" is most difficult. She added, "You have to control yourself on and off the court. You also have to control other people."

As for advice to any girls thinking about trying out for cheerleader, Brenda encourages them to "consider it more because you get to know the girls as a whole instead of as just yourself."

Susie advises, "If you're trying out for cheerleader, make sure it's from your heart—not for popularity, but for your school and to help the team."

Lori simply wished "Good luck to everyone next year."

Legislative Report

By MYRL SHOEMAKER,
State Representative
88th House District

The Legislature's $91 million education supplemental appropriation act became law this week without the Governor's signature. The measure, an initiative of the Legislature, will result in additional funds for 613 Ohio school districts. Funds will be distributed in March, April, May, and June. The receiving school district will gain an extra $40 per every pupil in their districts.

How the additional monies will be spent will be left to the discretion of each local school district. This feature emphasizes the Legislature's desire to involve local units of government in the decision-making process on matters enacted by the Legislature.

On Wednesday, the Ohio General Assembly received the four specific constitutional amendment proposals of the Governor. As I stated early these four proposals deal with:

1. Tax Breaks for Manufacturing Industries
2. Expansion of Powers of the Ohio Housing Development Board to issue Revenue Bonds
3. Nine cent increase in Gasoline Tax to Finance a $1.6 billion Transportation 30 year Bond Issue
4. Seven cent increase in the Sales Tax to Finance a $2.5 billion Development 30 year Bond Issue

In addition, the Legislature introduced its own proposed House Constitutional Amendment. This is a continuation of the Legislature 1974 initiatives in the Housing field. The Legislature has done and will do all it can to get the Housing industry moving again so as to assure decent housing for all Ohioans.

The Legislature will now have until March 5 if it is to get any of the proposed amendments on the June 3 ballot.

My observation, at this time, is that there is no consensus in the Legislature regarding the merits of the various proposals, or the merits of placing them on the June ballot. I am certain that the next six legislative days will be very important in determining the fate of the measures. I am also certain the Legislature will be open-minded, and will do everything it can to assure that you and other voters are fully aware of the consequences of any proposed constitutional amendments placed before you.

For Ohio to continue as a strong industrial and agricultural state, Ohio must have the necessary energy supplies provided at reasonable costs. There is growing concern in the Legislature that the necessary supplies are dwindling, while the cost of those supplies are increasing at a far too rapid pace.

In response, the Legislature is moving immediately to adopt a Joint Resolution which will establish a Senate-House Legislative study committee to examine the situation. The committee will be charged with the responsibilities of determining what energy supplies are available, and with determining whether the costs of those supplies are reasonable.

If changes in Ohio law are required to assure that Ohio has enough reasonably-priced energy then the committee must recommend those changes to the Legislature by October 15 of this year.

The Leadership of the General Assembly has placed a high priority on this effort. I am sure you will see concrete results developing within the next six months.

As I reported in a prior issue of this newsletter the pace of legislative activity is running at an intensive pace. That pace is continuing.

I have been constantly engaged in either committee hearings, floor debate or constituent discussions over legislative matters since the convening of the 111th General Assembly on January 6.

I am pleased that there is so much interest in the activities of this General Assembly. We need to keep working to assure that the problems we face in this state are resolved.

Nepal's New King Crowned

KATMANDU, Nepal (AP) — Seated cross-legged on his dynastic throne under a canopy of nine golden cobras, Nepal's young absolute monarch received the plumed crown of his Himalayan kingdom in a Hindu ritual.

"For the welfare of the people, I am about to crown you," the High Priest of the realm chanted today as the sun dissipated a mountain mist over a tiny inner courtyard of the carved-wood royal palace.

"For the welfare of the people, I am ready to be the king," 29-year-old Birendra Bir Bikram Shah Deva responded. "I will be popular like the raindrop. I will be friendly like the sun."

As a royal astrologer with a big pocket watch signaled the propitious moment of 8:37 a.m., the priest placed the jeweled crown on the head of the 10th ruler in the 200-year-old Shah dynasty.

Birendra, who has been running the country since the death of his father, King Mahendra, in January 1972, assumed the title "Incarnation of Vishnu, King of Kings, the Five Times Godly, Valorous Warrior and Divine Emperor."

Wearing a diamond-studded crown,

25-year-old Queen Aishwarya Rajya Laxmi Devi Shah sat beside her Harvard-educated husband on the throne draped with skins of a bull, a wildcat, a leopard, a lion and a tiger.

More than 100 foreign representatives, including Prince Charles of Britain and Crown Prince Akihito of Japan, looked on as Birendra sat with regal calm and the palace band played a cacophonous Hindu hymn.

Sen. Charles H. Percy, the Illinois Republican and former camera manufacturer, moved about the courtyard in his morning suit taking movies of the ceremony.

A bevy of white-clad priests with yellow satin caps shuffled about the king, sprinkling him with holy water, purified butter, milk and curd as a priest read an 80-verse section of the Vedic scriptures on which the coronation is based.

"You are the womb of the rule," he chanted. "You are the vagina of the rule. You are the umbilical cord of the rule."

Members of the royal family and the government filed before the king and queen to pay obeisance and drop coins of tribute at their feet. First in line was 3-year-old Crown Prince Deependra Bir Bikram Shah Dev, who saluted his father and staggered under the weight of his military uniform and royal robes.

On Hike Economy

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — U.S. Rep. Donald D. Clancy, R-Ohio, a member of the House Ways and Means Committee, said legislation to bolster the economy will be moving within two weeks.

Clancy told a news conference Friday he believed the public will have to voluntarily cut back fuel consumption to handle energy problems.

He said he opposes rationing because it would require a "tremendous bureaucracy" costing about $2 billion.

In addition, rationing would result in fraud, counterfeiting and cheating on gasoline coupons.

"The people won't stand for it," Clancy said.

Tigers Knock TV From Tournament

John Lawhorn's Circleville Tigers had Central District tournament officials and coaches buzzing with their methodical 71-46 dismantling of Teays Valley in the first round of the Grove City Class AA sectional game

Saturday in the Columbus Coliseum. Using a man-to-man defense that complimented a running offense, Circleville ripped the Vikings for an 18-point halftime lead. Then the Tigers settled into their patient stack attack to increase the margin to 29 at one point in the fourth period before rolling to their 19th straight season win by 25 markers.

It was the 180th coaching victory in the illustrious career of Coach Lawhorn, who built the Tigers to state powers by teaching defense.

Circleville, Ohio Associated Press' number one Class AA team, handed Lawhorn his 80th victory at Circleville in seven seasons.

It was also an anniversary for Circleville junior players, who have not lost a basketball game in 40 starts.

Teays Valley, sporting a nearly all senior squad, closed out the year with a 12-7 record and their second straight Metro League basketball title. The Vikings of Coach Bob Hoover had reached the district finals twice in the last two years, knocking Circleville from contention in the sectional finals in 1973 before eventually losing to Ready, the state winner, in the district finals.

Harold "Willis" Reed and George Moore paced Saturday's victory with 21 points each.

Reed scored on 10 of 16 shots from the floor, getting seven markers in the final period and six each in the first and third. Moore's 21 included nine of 10 foul shots, but his big contribution was defense. He pulled down 15 of the Tigers' 40 rebounds, stopping the TV running game, and clogged the inside alley under the Viking basket.

Perry Hoskins finished the game with 12 points, four at the foul line, and Mike McCoy, the other Tiger guard, scored 10 markers and had six assists.

Biff Bumgarner, concentrating on his one-man defense of Viking ace Terry Collins, scored five points at the foul line and had five rebounds, and Brent Mancini connected on two free throws.

TV senior guard Kevin Pettibone, the sparkplug of the Viking attack, scored 15 points, 10 in the third period after being held to just three in the first half by Hoskins.

Terry Collins, the Vike's leading scorer who was blanketed by Bumgarner, scored 10, six coming in the final period after Biff was forced to sit out with a minor hip injury in the third quarter.

Chuck Glitt, TV's other senior guard and playmaker, struck for five points in the game, all in the first half. Jeff Cauger, a 6-4 junior forward netted four, and Lee Stiles, Bill Browning, Dan Smoot, George Spohn, Mark Messick, and Dave Schiff had two each.

Stiles opened the scoring for TV with a tip-in with 7:30 remaining in the first quarter.

But Reed sandwiched two jumpers from the corner around a Chuck Glitt drive with 5:33 remaining in the period to start Circleville on an unanswered 19-point scoring binge that carried over into the second period.

Glitt's marker was the last for Teays Valley in the period, and the Tigers held them scoreless until he again hit from the inside with 6:09 remaining in the half.

Control of the boards at both ends by Moore and the Tigers was the key, as Circleville sped up the floor with missed Viking shots and hustled back on defense to prevent the Vikes from unleashing their vaunted run and shoot offense.

After Reed hit the corner shot with 4:54 remaining in the first period, Moore canned five of six free throws to build the lead to 9-4. Reed hit again, this time on a lay-up, and McCoy netted a jumper from the foul line for a 13-4 Circleville edge at the quarter.

McCoy scored on the jump shot with eight seconds gone in the second period, Moore scored on two inside baskets, and Bumgarner netted two free throws for a 21-4 Circleville edge before Glitt could connect for the Vikings.

His lay-up with 6:09 remaining in the half started the Vikes on a four-point scoring edge that cut the lead to 11, 21-10. But Circleville mastered Hoover's sticky 2-3 zone to pull out to a 34-16 halftime advantage.

The closing minutes of the half showed the way for Circleville in the final two periods.

After Reed picked up his third foul

CIRCLEVILLE DEFENSE—Chuck Glitt (13) broke through the Tiger man-to-man defense for a baseline drive, but the ball is batted away under the backboard by Harold with 2:13 left to play, the Tigers went into a four-corner stall, abandoning their running game for the steadier controlled offense.

"Willis" Reed (24), George Moore, and Perry Hoskins. Watching the action are Kevin Pettibone, Jeff Cauger, Biff Bumgarner, and George Spohn.

And that's what they played in the final half, connecting on 14 of 22 easy shots for a 63.6 shooting average in the final 16 minutes.

Circleville broke out to a 44-20 edge in the third period, before the Vikes rallied for eight straight points to cut the lead to 16 with 2:25 to play in the third period.

But that was as close as they came. Circleville opened a 50-30 lead at the buzzer and increased it to 71-42 with 1:30 left in the game.

Circleville canned half of their shots in the contest, 25 of 50 from the floor. The Tigers banged in 21 of 24 shots from the foul line, had 18 turnovers, and were called for 19 personal fouls.

The Vikings hit a dismal 20 of 61 shots from the floor for 32 per cent, were six of 12 from the foul line, had 28 turnovers, and 17 personal fouls.

Pettibone and Collins had five rebounds each to pace the Vikes, who claimed 25 in the game.

The win was the third straight by Circleville over Teays Valley. The Tigers ripped the Vikes 57-42 in a defensive tilt Dec. 7, and then 86-64 Jan. 4.

CJH 8th Graders Take 3rd Place

The Circleville 8th grade basketball team rallied to stop Greenfield 28-23 for third place in the Greenfield Junior High basketball tournament Saturday.

After an 8-all first period, the Tigers of Coach Ty Ankrom pulled out to a 17-14 halftime lead.

But Greenfield closed the gap to 20-19 after three quarters before Circleville took the win.

Jeff Strawser netted 11 points to pace the Tigers. Rich Elsea had seven, Kevin Woltz and Butch McFarland had four each, and Brian Sealock scored two.

Pete Harrison and Tim Pontious, who did not score, placed good floor games for the Tigers, according to Coach Ankrom.

Larry Seldon paced Greenfield with 12 markers. He scored eight in the first half, before Woltz held him to four in the final two periods.

The Tigers finished with an 8-8 record.

Banquet Set For CJHS Teams

The Circleville Junior High School Winter Sports Banquet, honoring the 7th, 8th, and 9th grade basketball and wrestling teams, will be held Tuesday evening in the high school cafeteria.

Persons attending are asked to bring a well-filled basket and table service. Serving will begin at 6:30 p.m.

Circleville will be seeking its first sectional tournament title in seven years when they clash with Logan Elm in the Grove City upper bracket finals.

The game is scheduled Friday, Feb. 28, at 8 p.m. in the 2,500-seat Grove City gymnasium.

The Braves gained the finals by defeating Pickerington 75-62 in a first-round contest.

Circleville has beaten Logan Elm twice in regular season games. The Tigers won 67-56 in a third game of the year and 83-52 Feb. 15 in a game that marked the 18th win for Circleville.

The winner of the Grove City upper bracket sectional will play the winner of the Utica-Licking Valley contest, which will also be played Feb. 28 at 8 p.m.

Utica, 15-4, gained the finals by slipping by Fairfield Union 73-66 in overtime. Licking Valley, 16-3, toppled Reemelin 84-44 in a first-round contest.

The district game will be played Thursday, March 6, at 8:30 p.m. at the Columbus Fairgrounds Coliseum.

Sparky Anderson Will Get Tough

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — It's been five years since George (Sparky) Anderson sprang from obscurity into the hot seat as manager of the power-laden Cincinnati Reds.

"I told people to wait five years to judge me," said Anderson, whose Reds are one of baseball's winningest teams but a bridesmaid each fall.

The 41-year-old Anderson says he's learned from the frustration of being sidetracked from the elusive world championship.

He's ready to shoulder the blame for 1974's erratic ways.

"I didn't have us ready mentally when we left spring training. I built my club up as untouchable. I overdid it," he said.

"They read how good they were and believed it," said Anderson.

The Reds got off to a slow start, fell far behind the Los Angeles Dodgers, then rode a torrid late-summer spell back into contention. But Cincinnati's Big Red Machine spun its wheels in the stretch.

Anderson promised a gettough attitude for 1975.

He's won three division titles and two National League pennants. But it's not enough.

"Make no doubt about it," he said, "I'd like to retire and be No. 1. Everyone has an ego and I have one that's as large as anyone's."

His biggest challenge lies in 1975.

Reds management decided to stand pat in the off-season, leaving third base and its defensive problems a key concern. Right field is still a question mark, too.

"I'm going to have to be more understanding and patient this year than ever before," said Anderson. "All the time I'm going to have three guys unhappy—three guys who think they should be playing and who aren't."

He was referring to his plans to shuttle George Foster, Danny Driessen and Ken Griffey in right field.

"My toughest job will be to get guys into enough games so they feel part of the team. With five years behind me, I have the strength to be able to go through this and keep the guys happy," he said.

Wittenberg Clubs Denison, 78-58

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Only defending champion Wittenberg could avoid a wave of upsets that swept through the Ohio Conference Basketball Tournament Saturday night.

The Tigers, bidding for their eighth OC crown since 1960, ripped Denison 78-58 with 55 per cent floor shooting to win a spot in the Southern Division finals.

Wittenberg (16-7) will face Capital (19-5) in the Southern championship game Friday night at Denison University. Capital stunned top-seeded Marietta 54-46 in the semifinals.

Both of the Northern Division semifinals at Wooster were upsets Saturday night.

A freshman, Brad Longberry, scored eight of his team's 12 overtime points, leading Ohio Northern to a 67-63 ambush of Heidelberg, the North's top seed.

Indiana Nabs Big Ten Title; Nips Purdue

By JOE MOOSHIL

AP Sports Writer

The loss of Scott May shouldn't prevent Indiana's topranked Hoosiers from closing the regular season undefeated, but their vaunted bench strength should be sharply tested in the NCAA playoffs.

Indiana wrapped up its third straight Big Ten title Saturday with a harrowing 83-82 victory over archrival Purdue. The triumph extended the Hoosiers' unbeaten string to 29 games, 26 this season including a 15-0 mark in the Big Ten.

May suffered a broken left arm near the end of the first half, but Steve Green took over and finished with 29 points. John Garrett was high for the Boilermakers with 20.

Purdue might have won the game if the Boilermakers had been able to get off a shot in the final five seconds. They inbounded the ball to Bruce Parkinson who wheeled around and lost the ball. Indiana recovered as the buzzer sounded.

Indiana Coach Bobby Knight didn't have much to say about May's injury. "We'll just have to put things together for the rest of the season. May broke his arm sometime right before the end of the first half. He played one trip down the floor and said he couldn't squeeze his hand."

Despite the loss of May, the game was a dandy.

"I don't know how you could find a better basketball game," said Knight. "If you didn't like this game," said Purdue Coach Fred Schaus, "then you don't like the game of basketball."

Purdue still managed to retain a share of second place in the Big Ten with a 9-5 record—good enough to tie Michigan which had its hands full in a 69-68 victory over Northwestern.

Minnesota also found the going rough and edged Iowa 68-67, while Illinois defeated Ohio State 83-78 in overtime, and Wisconsin upset Michigan State 103-96.

Oberlin, which will pit its 12-10 record against Ohio Northern's 13-13 mark for the Northern title Friday night at Wooster, ousted Kenyon 80-71. Kenyon was the No. 2 seed in the Northern Division.

Wittenberg, second to Marietta in the regular season race, poured in 66 per cent of its second half shots to crush Denison, finishing at 16-6.

Skip Freeman's 18 points paced Wittenberg. Hank Chawansky was high for Denison with 16.

Capital, led by Gene Caslin's 24 points, snapped out of a 29-29 halftime tie to end Marietta's trial at 19-3. The Crusaders won it at the free throw line, hitting 24 of 31 to only eight of nine for Marietta.

Heidelberg muffed a chance to win in regulation against Ohio Northern. Jim Rinehart missed a foul shot with five seconds left and the score tied 55-55. Mark Chrislip led Heidelberg (13-10) with 22 points.

Merlin Friend's 24 points and 18 more by Jerry Saunders helped Oberlin surprise Kenyon, out at 14-11.

Vikings Win Freshman Tournament

Teays Valley freshman added the Bexley tournament championship to their cage laurels Saturday, defeating Grandview, 44-31.

Grandview was the top seeded team in the tournament and was co-champion of the Metro League with the little Vikings.

Pacing the winners was Ronnie Little with 14 points. Mike Fisher scored 11, Duane Kelley six, Rick Queen five, Dwayne Hettinger four, Mark Blue and John Pabst two each.

Teays Valley's season record is 14 wins and three losses.

Perez And Driessen Remain Not Signed

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — Cincinnati Reds officials said headway was made Sunday in the salary disputes with slugging first baseman Tony Perez and his backup Dan Driessen.

They and two other Reds are the only players unsigned on the 10-man spring roster. The other two are relief pitcher Pedro Borbon and reserve outfielder Ed Armbrister.

Black And White Tournament Leaders

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Black and white may be fading out of the picture insofar as television is concerned, but Black and White appear to have quite a future in the bowling game.

Rich Black, Kansas City, Kans., blasted 2,019 for first place in regular all-events Sunday in the American Bowling Congress tournament, while Mike White, Lincoln, Neb., hit 1,962, good for second place.

Frank (Pancho) Martin has been training thoroughbreds on New York tracks for 25 years.

Vikes Take Second In Metro Mat Meet

Teays Valley was the runner-up in the Metro League wrestling championship for the second year in a row, placing behind Olentangy, who also won the 1974 crown.

Olentangy scored 106 points in the weekend tournament at Marysville. TV scored 92½, Marysville 54½, Franklin Heights 50½, Grandview 48½, Hamilton Twp. 43½, and Dublin 21.

The Vikings had 10 men in the finals, and four walked off with first-place finishes.

Greg Branham won the 98-pound class, Bill Breon was the league champ at 155, Bill Hurley won at 167, and Mike Wilson won the 175-pound championship.

Breon and Wilson are repeat champions, having won titles in last year's meet. Breon wrestled at 167 last year.

Hurley finished third in the 155-pound class a year ago.

Second place finishers for Coach Floyd Gray's Vikings were Mike Figgins at 112, Ted Ross at 145, and Roger Struckman at 185. Struckman and Ross were league champs last year and Figgins placed second.

Matt Thomas placed third at 132 for TV, Don Burgoon was third in the 138-pound class, and Bill Toole placed fourth in the heavyweight competition.

Branham stopped Paul Austin of Olentangy 7-6 in a second-round match and then clipped Tim Cline of Marysville 6-1 in the finals.

Breon pinned Hamilton's Dan Newberry in 1:15 in the first round, decisioned Jim Evans of Franklin Heights 21-5 in the second, and topped Olentangy's Ray Ransburg 8-6 in the finals. Hurley pinned Steve Marzcika of Grandview in 1:47 of his first round match, pinned Jim Orr of Hamilton in :37 of the second round match, and decisioned Harold Fraker of Marysville 5-1 in the finals.

Wilson pinned John Fitzpatrick of Grandview in 4:48 of the first round, decisioned Mark Eeghaly of Dublin 8-2 in the second round, and decisioned Larry Grimes of Marysville 11-6 in the finals.

Here are the results of the tournament:

Fitzsimons Wins L.A. Golf Clash

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "I thought if I shot 65 I would win," said Jack Nicklaus. "I didn't know how this young boy would react."

Nicklaus shot his 65, but he didn't win.

That's because the reaction of the young boy, Pat FitzSimons, was a clinching string of 14 consecutive pars—a hard-won string put together in the face of growing pressure—that secured his first professional triumph in Sunday's final round of the Glen Campbell-Los Angeles Open Golf Tournament.

FitzSimons was staked to a six-shot lead by his course-record 64 in Saturday's third round and clinched it with a gritty, steady, one-under-par 70 over the last 18 holes of the demanding, 7,028-yard Riviera Country Club course.

He won by a comfortable four strokes with a 275 total. The big lead starting the final round was the difference.

"With a six-stroke lead, you want to concede yourself the victory, but you can't do that," the curly-haired, 24-year-old FitzSimons said.

"It's like looking at a threefoot putt for six hours. If you make it, people say, 'Well, that's what he's supposed to do.' If you miss it, they say, 'How in the world could he blow something like that?'"

"Blowing a six-shot lead could be a devastating thing."

His closing string of 14 pars precluded that possibility. FitzSimons, who'd never even come close to winning before, left the strongest field of the year strung out well behind him. No one ever got closer than four strokes.

That was Tom Kite, who birdied three of four holes on the back nine for a 68 and finished second at 279.

Nicklaus, who started play 10 strokes back in the mild, sunny weather of the final round, made up the lost ground but finished five behind at 280.

"Delighted," Nicklaus said. "That's the first really good round I've played in a long time. I thought a 65 would win. It all depended on the young man leading."

Tom Weiskopf and U.S. Open champion Hale Irwin were next at 282, Irwin with a closing 67, Weiskopf with a 68. Tom Watson, Billy Casper, Jim

Ed Bruder Leader In Bowling Clash

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—Ed Bruder of Canton rolled games of 254, 247 and 204 for a 705 to take the singles lead in the first weekend of competition in the Ohio State Bowling Association tournament.

With his 60 handicap, Bruder's 765 also was good for the top spot in the singles handicap division.

decisioned Bruce Dulin (O) 5-1; lost to Dave Dyckes (GV) 10-5.

Heavyweight - Bill Toole (TV) decisioned Frank Alshire (O) 8-7; lost to Mike Brown (MV) 1-0.

The Teays Valley reserve wrestlers won their Metro League tournament, scoring 99½ points.

Marysville placed second with 96, Olentangy had 74½, Franklin Heights had 34, West Jefferson 33, Grandview 28, Dublin 28, and Hamilton Twp. 14. The Vikings had eight wrestlers in the finals.

Weight class winners were Bill Guzik, 98 pound; Lloyd Windon, 155-pound; Mike Dick, 175-pound; Joe Burger, 185-pound; and Scott Rader, heavyweight.

In Memoriam

A Prayer
If any little word of mine
May make a life the brighter,
If any little word of mine
May make a heart the lighter,
God help me speak the little word,
And take my bit of singing,
And drop it in some lonely vale,
To set the echoes ringing!
If any little word of mine
May make a life the sweeter,
If any little word of mine
May make a friend's life easier,
If any little word of mine
May ease the burden of another,
God give me love and care and strength
To help my failing brother.
In Memory of Richard S. Dawson who passed away Feb. 22, 1964.

By FRANCIS DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

FORTUESDAY

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 20): Planetary influences somewhat mixed, but generally on the favorable side. You may get unexpected help in a personal problem through a business associate.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 to May 21): Some surprising changes — for the most part beneficial, depending on how well managed. A good chance for completing a profitable financial transaction.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21): Day may be somewhat irritating in spots — either through business associates who prove difficult or some misunderstanding with your mate. But hang in there: Late p.m. hours find problems happily solved.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23): Financial matters have an element of risk, so make your moves slowly and deliberately. Personal relationships, however, promise to be exceptionally congenial.

LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23): Clear thinking and direct action will be necessary if you would prevent interference with your plans. Don't let anyone or anything keep you from pursuing worthwhile objectives.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23): Some situations highly mystifying. Don't fret: you'll only worsen matters. Rather, see if you can get some background information to help clarify matters.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23): You may have a hankering to do something in a way not supported by logic. Better think about the consequences — to yourself and others. Be alert, perceptive.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 22): If you have any doubts about projects, reconsider them, but subdue unreasonable fears. Give a thought to earlier successful moves. They could guide you now.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 to Dec. 21): Don't lose patience with slower, even aggravating persons: It will only upset you, may result in fruitless disputes. Also, avoid pessimists and trouble-makers.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): "Retreat" is a word not usually found in your vocabulary, but it could be used strategically now to reinforce strength, improve tactics.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): Under splendid auspices are health, recreational and intellectual pursuits. Also favored: artistic interests. You should have smooth going.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): Don't be thrown off guard by fancy-sounding, but possibly misleading propositions. Study the overall picture. Where there is REAL value, don't hesitate.

YOU BORN TODAY, like most Pisceans, have a strong affinity for the artistic but you also have a very practical streak which, coupled with your remarkable intuition, gives you the ability to put your creative abilities to the best use. Music and literature are the best outlets for your talents but, even if you do not adopt one of these as a life work, you may develop into a connoisseur in either field. Paradoxically, with such artistic leanings, you are also a whiz with figures, and could become an outstanding financier. But here you MUST be realistic. The Piscean is often superstitious and may act on hunches or "omens" — which could prove disastrous. Other fields, in which you could excel: shipbuilding and shipowning, statesmanship, the theater, painting and sculpture. Birthdate of: Enrico Caruso, renowned tenor; Pierre Renior, French painter.

Connors Wins Tennis Tournament

BOCA RATON, Fla. (AP) — Jimmy Connors has been known to lose his temper. In fact he blew his cool during the semifinals of the $30,000 men's tennis tournament here.

But his girlfriend Chris Evert apparently knows how to keep her man under control.

"Chrissy told me to behave today," Connors said Sunday after defeating Jurgen Fassbender of West Germany 6-4, 6-2 in the finals. "I said okay, I'll behave today."

Under Miss Evert's watchful eyes, the top-seeded Connors minded his manners and capitalized on Fassbender's long returns and occasional shots into the net to take the $5,000 top prize.

Shafter in the California San Joaquin Valley took its name from Gen. William "Pecos Bill" Shafter, Spanish-American War hero.

Hannan Council K Of C Names M. Jay Fath Knight Of The Year

By MARION SINES
Herald Staff Writer
Hannan Council 5297, Knights of Columbus in Circleville, held its Thirteenth Annual Knight of the Year Award Dinner at Unit 134 American Legion on Saturday evening.

Jay Fath received the honor for his many projects of the past year. In his acceptance speech he said he liked to spend money on activities in the community so it was necessary to earn that money and that is why he put forth special effort toward this end.

Fath is outside guard of the council and youth activities chairman. He was also chairman of the James T. Shea Memorial award, given to an outstanding student in sport and church along with a high scholastic rating. Steve Sargent of Logan Elm High School was this year's recipient.

Another project was taking daughters of members and some underprivileged girls to the Royal Lippizan Horse Show in Columbus. He was chairman of the Christmas party attended by 70 youngsters who each received as a special gift, a picture of themselves with Santa Claus. He was chairman for the father-son basketball game and a pizza party. He also assisted in programs to raise money for the support of many charitable works carried throughout the year by the council.

Joining the council in 1973 Fath has carried on the tradition of working hard and fast for the young organization. He and his wife, Jane are the parents of three children and he is employed by RCA.

Ed Bohenko, master of ceremonies, introduced guests and paid tribute to the knights for their work and faith during the past year. Bohenko and his wife, Drema, are also newcomers to Circleville but he said that while the family was not too happy about moving to a small town they now are real Circlevillians and happy about it.

Bohenko was urged by Frank Plescia to join the K of C and subsequently found himself enjoyably involved in many facets of the organization. He became lecturer and public relations chairman and participated in all work both in St. Joseph's Catholic Church and community endeavors with apparently untiring effort. He made arrangements for the billboard at Routes 104 and 22 urging people to Keep Christ in Christmas.

Pickaway County People Play Role In Success Of Tecumseh Auction

Pickaway county participants again played a large part in the success of the second annual Tecumseh Ceremonial Feast held Saturday evening Feb. 22 at the Elks Hall in Chillicothe. Approximately one third of the 190 people attending the event were from the Circleville area and they went home with half of the auction items, which were sold to benefit the 1975 season of Tecumseh.

The gala evening began at 7:00 p.m. with a cocktail hour featuring a silent auction of boxes containing collections of smaller articles donated to the Scioto Society. It didn't take sale devotees long to realize that there was an item or two of real value in each box. Spirited bidding ensued and several of the boxes brought well over $50 by the end of the hour.

At 8:15, the group adjourned to the dining room where Executive Caterers served the delicious buffet dinner. The Chillicothe Garden Club was responsible for the floral decorations for the evening. The towering arrangement on the buffet table featured orange glads and was in keeping with the Indian theme.

Following dessert and coffee, Mr. Robert Evans, chairman of the board of the Scioto Society, welcomed the guests. He introduced the President, W. L. Mundell, who, in turn, introduced the honored guest for the evening, Mr. Nicholas Rinaldi of New York City, who will be the director for Tecumseh in 1975. Mr. Rinaldi commended the crowd for their support of the drama and promised a fine production for next summer.

The auction was the next order of business for the evening and Mr. Evans introduced the gentlemen who made it all possible—Mr. Norman Godden, the auctioneer and Mr. Don Strous, Pickaway County Commissioner, who served as clerk. Both men donated their services as did Mr.

Gene McCutcheon, who provided organ music during the dinner hour.

Mr. Godden introduced his floor spotters, Mr. Nelson Embrey, Mr. Newell Stevenson, Mr. John Eshelman, Jr. and Mr. Robert Evans. On stage, Mrs. Don Miller, Sr. described the auction items and Mrs. Henry Swope displayed them to the audience. Clerks were Mr. Herbert Friedman and Mr. Albert Heierman, Jr.

One hundred and twenty valuable donations were offered to the audience. The enthusiasm and generosity displayed by this group netted the Scioto Society $7,807.34.

Highlights of the auction were again generally in the realm of art. Mr. Alan Gough's sketch of Sugarleaf mountain brought $575., the top price of the evening. Betty Griffith's magnificent Tecumseh brought $200. and was purchased by William Robertson. Evelyn Bastian's beautiful watercolor of birch trees with Sugar leaf mountain in the background went for $170. to a Mrs. Simpson from Chillicothe. Lissa Yapple's Wounded Knee was purchased by David Yates for $50.

The 1050 lb. Black Angus steer, donated by Mr. and Mrs. John Dunlap Jr. sold for $425. to Mr. David Yates, who was acting for Mrs. Emily Lutz, H. H. Swope and C. W. Hales, as well as himself.

One of the most sought after items in the sale was the 51 bound issues of the Circleville Democrat and Watchman dated 1872. Mrs. Paul Adkins had the winning bid at $260. She will donate the volume to the Pickaway County Historical Society.

Other donations bringing high prices were the Ann Entis sculpture $175., a Victorian velvet covered cuspidor $100., a signed Libby cut glass bowl $100., a wooden duck decoy $95., a mahogany book case $180., a 12 gauge

Jefferson Church Plans Missionary Convention

The Rev. Burnis H. Bushong, vice president in charge of Field Ministries for World Gospel Mission, will be the guest speaker during a Missionary Convention Feb. 28-Mar. 1 at the Circleville-Jefferson Church of Christ in Christian Union, located on the Circleville-Tarleton Road.

The special services will begin 7:30 p.m. each evening with Rev. Bushong also speaking in both the 10:30 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. Sunday services.

World Gospel Mission, serving in fifteen areas of the world, is an interdenominational missionary organization numbering approximately 300 missionaries, associate missionaries, and homeland personnel. The mission headquarters is in Marion, Indiana.

Rev. Bushong is a graduate of Chicago Evangelistic Institute (now Vennard College) and holds a Master of Arts degree in history, with specialization in Latin American history, from Drake University, Des Moines, Iowa.

He and his wife Thelma first began missionary work on the Mexican Border in 1946. They were sent to Honduras by WGM in 1952 where they had three terms of fruitful service. For a number of years Rev. Bushong was field superintendent and director of Tegucigalpa Bible Institute, located near the capital city.

During his last term in Honduras, Bushong was a member of the Executive Committee for the Evangelism in Depth campaign. This extensive cooperative effort to reach every home in Honduras with the Gospel of Christ was highly successful.

Immediately following participation in the Honduras campaign, Rev. Bushong was invited by Latin America Mission to assist in the direction of a similar crusade in Bolivia. Among other duties, he accepted the responsibility for organizing the campaign in the capital city of La Paz.

During that year of special evangelistic endeavor, thousands of conversions were reported throughout Bolivia.

In January, 1966, the Board of Directors of World Gospel Mission invited the Bushongs to join the headquarters staff in Marion, Indiana. Rev. Bushong was appointed director of Field Administration, making him the principal liaison officer between WGM's foreign fields and the homeland administration.

He was later titled vice president in charge of Field Ministries. He has traveled widely in Latin American and has ministered also on WGM fields in Africa and Asia.

All-Weather 78

Goodyear's new All-Weather 78 is built with polyester cord that's first tempered in an exclusive Goodyear process to set the cord at optimum strength and resilience. The wide 78-series tread is "reversed molded," a technique borrowed from race tire production. In reverse molding, the contour of the tread surface is slightly concave as it comes from the mold—so that when the tire is inflated, the tread makes full, flat contact with the road. And the rib-type tread design is well grooved, with plenty of traction edges to provide decisive grip. In every detail, this new All-Weather 78 gives you honest quality, at a price that's in step with the time.

RAIN CHECK — If we sell out of your size we will issue you a rain check, assuring future delivery at the advertised price.

100 WISE WAYS TO BE A BETTER SHOPPER!

A copy of all 100 Wise Ways to shop is available to you free! Please write Mr. Templeton, Box 13126, Whitehall, Ohio 43213. Listed below are just a few:

- Buy your favorite meat cuts when "featured" and freeze for later use.
- Lower grades of meat are less expensive but highly nutritious. Try Kroger's Thrifty Beef. When properly prepared it has the same protein value and vitamin content as top grades, but is less expensive.
- Grated tuna is less expensive than chunk tuna. It's good for casserole use. Water-packed tuna is more expensive than tuna packed in vegetable oil.
- All-meat bologna is less expensive than all-beef bologna.
- The cost of dried and canned beans is about equal. If a pound of dry beans costs less than 2-1/2 times what a pound of canned beans cost, the dry beans are the better buy.
- Buy cereal in large boxes rather than the small individual boxes.
- Freeze bread to prevent spoilage. Refrigeration will stale bread faster.
- Keep this guide in mind: 10 oz. package of frozen vegetables or a 16 oz. can of vegetables contains about 1 1/2 cups or 3 servings.
- Frozen vegetables in butter or cream sauce are more expensive and higher in calories, than the plain frozen varieties.
